News from the Health Services Committee

Volunteers Supporting Aging in Place: Help Us Build a Small-Town Solution That Can Work!

The community of Candle Lake and Health Services has been awarded grant funding to develop an operational framework for our upcoming Volunteers Supporting Aging in Place initiative—a new program dedicated to helping our seniors stay independent, safe, and connected to the community they love.

To bring this vision to life, we are introducing two vital roles:

- Program Developer (Now Posted): This role is responsible for establishing our foundational infrastructure, including volunteer policies, intake workflows, and safety frameworks. This structure will ensure local networks can safely deliver essential senior transportation, navigation, and in-home community support.
- Volunteer Coordinator (Posting Soon): This role will implement the newly created systems, recruit and train our local volunteers, and match them with residents to provide critical services like medical transportation, wellness checks, and caregiver respite.

Interested in making a difference? For a complete overview of the scope and details on how to submit your expression of interest, please visit the Resort Village website at candlelake.ca or contact Administration directly at cao@candlelake.ca.

News from Candle Lake Citizens on Patrol

COPPS patrols are an active deterrent to criminal activity throughout our community. We patrol at all times of the day and night and will always have our reflective shields on both sides of our vehicles when patrolling. For your own safety do not approach suspicious individuals or circumstances; call the community dispatcher at 306-960-1855 and report what you observe.

Senior's Fraud Presentation

Thank you to everyone who attended the Senior's Fraud Presentation held May 12. Hosted by COPPS, the Wapiti Library and the North of 50 Senior's organization, the presentation provided valuable information to help individuals recognize scams and learn how to better protect themselves. Thank you to Chanda Hetzel, Community Program Officer Supervisor, Community Safety & Wellbeing Unit of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police for the presentation!

Seasonal Tips to Prevent Theft

With this years' late spring many seasonal residents have yet to 'stock-up' their properties with summer equipment and other items. Thieves are well aware of these 'seasonal' trends, so ensure your property is neat and tidy and store articles out of sight or lock them up where possible. Record serial numbers of items that could be easily stolen. Marking items to make them identifiable could also make retrieval of items possible.

Register Your Video Cameras

Residents and business owners with video surveillance cameras are encouraged to register their contact information with Candle Lake COPPS. In the event of an incident your contact information will be provided to law enforcement officers to speed up their investigation. Your information is kept secure and confidential. Email CandleLakeCOPPS@gmail.com to obtain a camera registry form or pick up a form in the display case at the RVCL Office.

LET'S BE FIRESMART

The FireSmart Canada Neighbourhood Recognition Program seeks to create a sustainable balance that will allow communities to live safely while maintaining environmental harmony in a wild land community setting. Residents within the community should focus attention on the structures and the surrounding area to create a fire-resistant zone. This can be accomplished by disconnecting the home from any high and/or low-intensity fire that could burn to it, and by being conscious of the potential ignition from wind-driven embers.

FireSmart recommendations to keep our community FireSmart:

- Establish a “fire free zone” on or within 1.5 metres of a structure. Remove easily ignited fuels located within this zone.
- Keep roofs, rain gutters and eavestroughs free from leaves, dried needles, and twigs.
- Clean gutters each year during spring yard cleaning.
- If your cottage/home has non-treated cedar shakes, consider replacing them with a less flammable class A asphalt or metal roofing. Another option is to set up sprinkler heads on the roof that could be activated if a wildfire occurs.
- Move firewood, bark mulch or wooden building material that is stacked directly against your home or under a structure a minimum of 10 metres away or screen it in to prevent ignitions.
- Remove hazardous fuels within the “home ignition zone”. The home ignition zone includes the fire free zone and encompasses the area within 10 metres of the home, decks or building structures.

IMMEDIATE ZONE 0m to 1.5m	The Immediate Zone is a non-combustible area that starts at the house and extends to a 1.5 metre perimeter around the home and attached structures, including decks. Reduce the chance of wind-blown embers igniting your home by starting with these proactive steps: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Choose non-combustible building materials when constructing or renovating your home. • Clear vegetation and combustible material down to mineral soil and cover with non-combustible materials like gravel, brick, or concrete. • Avoid planting woody shrubs or trees. If any are present, prune and maintain them regularly.
INTERMEDIATE ZONE 1.5m to 10m	Elements in the Intermediate Zone are managed so they don't transmit fire to your home. Here are a few actions you can take to reduce your home's vulnerability: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Plant fire-resistant vegetation and select non-combustible landscaping materials. • Avoid incorporating any woody debris, including mulch. • Keep combustible items like firewood piles, construction materials, patio furniture, tools, and decorative pieces out of this zone. • Move trailers, recreational vehicles, storage sheds, and other combustible structures into the Extended Zone. If that is not possible, store firewood inside your mitigated garage, shed, or other ember-resistant structures. • Create a non-combustible ground cover, like a gravel pad, underneath and 1.5 metres around trailers, recreational vehicles, and sheds.
EXTENDED ZONE 10m to 30m	The goal in the Extended Zone is not to eliminate fire, but to reduce its intensity. If your property extends into this zone, a few important steps you can take include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Selectively remove evergreen trees to create at least 3 metres of horizontal space between the single or grouped tree crowns. • Remove all branches to a height of 2 metres from the ground. • Regularly clean up accumulations of fallen branches, dry grass, and needles to eliminate potential surface fuels. • Continue to apply these principles if your property extends beyond 30m. Work with your neighbours in overlapping zones and seek guidance of a forest professional if affected by other conditions, like steep slopes.

WWW.FIRESMARTCANADA.CA

- Remove, thin and prune spruce, pine and cedar trees and any brush, leaves and other debris within the home ignition zone. Prune remaining spruce and pine trees to a height of 2 m if there is any flammable vegetation under them.
- Skirt homes, decks, and other structures to prevent accumulations of dried fuels. These open areas allow embers to blow in and start spot fires. Make a point during spring yard cleaning to rake and remove any accumulations of fuels such as dried leaves, needles, and twigs from under wooden decks and structures. The best protection would be to screen decks and skirt all buildings with 3 mm wire mesh or minimum 12mm thick wood sheathing.
- Place 8 – 12 mm wire mesh screens over fire pits and create a 1 m wide fire-resistant strip around fire pits.
- Fuel management options within the community could include the thinning and removal of any dead and down trees within the deciduous stands to further reduce the risk of fire. Mowing and maintaining annual grasses to 10 cm or less would also help reduce the fine fuel build up.
- Cabin owners are encouraged to look into purchasing sprinkler kits for their structure.
- Wildfire-related training and initiatives should be part of the capacity building package for the community.

Last-Minute Checklist for Protecting Your Home and Property from Wildfire

Evacuation Tips

Monitor conditions and follow the advice of local authorities. If ordered to evacuate, do so immediately.

Review your evacuation plan for your family and pets.

- Visit www.getprepared.gc.ca for helpful tips and evacuation plan templates.

Have your "ready to go kit" (emergency kit) ready and stocked with cash, portable radio, prescription medications, eye glasses, change of clothes, pet food, flashlights and batteries, etc. Make sure your phone numbers, insurance information and other important documents for your go bag are current.

- Visit www.getprepared.gc.ca for a more complete list of emergency supplies.

Before evacuating:

- Turn off air conditioning.
- Turn off your electricity and gas.
- Close all doors, garage doors and windows. If weather seal or doors have gaps, seal with duct tape.

Quickly address outside surroundings

Complete a scan around your home and property and take steps to remove combustibles.

Remove leaves, pine needles and other debris from your roof and gutters.

Mow grass and weeds within 10 metres of the house to 10 centimetres in length, or less.

Clear all dead plants, leaves, and weeds within 10 metres of your home. Maintain a 1.5 metre non-combustible zone around your home and deck by sweeping or raking down to mineral soil, rock or concrete.

Move combustible items, such as toys, patio furniture, cushions, decorative items, firewood, and potted plants, that are on and under your deck and within 10 metres of your home. Move all combustible items into your home or garage.

If you have a propane tank located on your property:

- Propane tanks should be moved to 10 metres away from structures.
- Remove weeds and other debris from area around large stationary propane tanks so there is no combustible material near tank.

If you have a combustible fence that attaches to your home:

- Secure gate in an open position.
- Clear vegetation and debris along both sides of combustible fence lines.

Check around the house

Check vents on roof, foundation and exterior walls to prevent embers from entering your home.

Check your attic and foundation (crawl space) vents to see if they are screened and in good repair. Use duct or metal tape to temporarily cover damaged vents and those with 3 millimetre mesh screening.

If you store cardboard boxes and other easily ignited materials near a vent in your attic or crawl space, move them as far away as possible from vent(s).

- Another option is to place tape over vent(s) at these locations. Be sure to remove tape when you return home.

Cover dryer vents and wall-mounted make-up air openings for furnaces with a plywood cover, metal tape or duct tape.

Non-combustible Zone

Aschim Homestead Faces Flood Conditions This Spring

After a relatively quiet winter with more snow than usual — and fewer snowshoers and walkers than in past years — the Aschim snowbanks are finally giving way to soggy pathways, rushing creeks, and nearly submerged boardwalks.

Both West Creek and Birchbark Creek are flowing at volumes not seen in the last 10 years. The boardwalks through the swamps and creekbeds of West Creek remain stable, but the connecting pathways are definitely “rubber boot territory.” The force of the water this spring has been incredible to watch as it surges through old beaver dam openings, rushes beneath walking bridges and newly built boardwalks, and slowly erodes the recently repaired culverted service road.

Birchbark Creek has also caused damage to the newest boardwalk section from the service road out toward the creek. Visitors are asked not to walk to the end of this boardwalk, as part of it has become semi-detached from the main structure.

When the Resort Village of Candle Lake and Communities in Bloom began caring for and developing the Historical Heritage Site in 2007, it was understood that the Aschim Homestead and surrounding woodlot would always be a living, changing natural environment requiring constant care and attention. Over the years, volunteers from the community — guided by the leadership of Communities in Bloom — have continually stepped up to repair and expand trails, maintain the house and yard, improve signage, engineer new boardwalks, refurbish trail benches, and promote this beautiful heritage property.

Past volunteers helped save the house and yard from flooding when beavers rerouted West Creek nearly a decade ago, and no doubt volunteers will once again help repair the damages left behind by this spring’s floodwaters. Despite the wet conditions, Aschim Homestead remains one of Candle Lake’s most unique and beautiful hiking destinations — a place where history, nature, and adventure meet in every season. The trail system offers incredible scenery and wildlife viewing opportunities, but visitors are encouraged to use extra caution this spring while water levels remain high. Stay on marked trails and boardwalks where possible, wear proper footwear, and be mindful of slippery or unstable areas.

Bring your rubber boots, your sense of adventure, and enjoy the beauty of Aschim this spring — safely!

Request for Expressions of Interest for Program Development Services - Volunteers Supporting Aging in Place Initiative

The Resort Village of Candle Lake is seeking proposals from qualified individuals or firms to assist in the development of the Volunteers Supporting Aging in Place Initiative — a community-based program designed to support seniors and vulnerable residents in maintaining independence and quality of life within the community. The project involves researching, consulting on, and preparing the foundational framework required to operate a safe, effective, and sustainable volunteer support program, including policies, procedures, forms, and operational processes utilizing “Better Impact” volunteer management software.

Interested individuals may propose either a salaried-based engagement or a contract pricing model for the work. The assignment is expected to include consultation with stakeholders, development of a comprehensive policy and procedure manual, volunteer management processes, risk management considerations, and supporting operational documentation. Experience in volunteer management, community services, program development, or policy development is considered an asset. The project is estimated to require approximately 300 – 400 hours over a six-month period.

This foundational work is intended to build a safe, consistent, and sustainable volunteer support model that can strengthen community connections and improve quality of life for seniors in Candle Lake. More information is available on the Resort Village of Candle Lake website under the “Notices” tab. Interested individuals or firms are encouraged to submit proposals to cao@candlelake.ca on or before June 15, 2026. Additional information may also be requested through the same contact email.
